WELCOME TO THE MANCHESTER OPEN 2024

Manchester Open, the biggest celebration of Greater Manchester's creative talent, is back! This year, it brings together the artworks of 473 artists, selected anonymously from 1,800 artist submissions, the most applications received from individuals since Manchester Open began.

Selected by a panel of art experts and community representatives, you will see a wide range of work including painting, print, photography, sculpture, ceramics, mixed media, video and audio. Now in its third iteration, Manchester Open 2024 brings together artworks by artists from all ten boroughs of Greater Manchester. The amazing range of artworks selected are by established professionals, new and emerging talent, graduates, students, enthusiastic amateurs and first-time artists from as young as 5 years old up to 83 years.

The Manchester Open 2024 panel was: Rebekka Anstem, Oubowen Chen, Lizzie Chapman, Clarissa Corfe, Gherdai Hassell, Hamid Shabir, Kate Vokes, Helen Wewiora, Alice Wilde.

We are delighted to be working with Castlefield Gallery on the selection of this year's Manchester Open Awards which will be announced on 4 March 2024. One artist will receive the HOME award for a solo exhibition in its Granada Foundation Galleries and three artists will be awarded with bespoke artist development packages managed by Castlefield Gallery. The fifth award is a People's Prize voted for by you, the gallery visitor! Vote for your favourite 3 artworks by 28 February.

MANCHESTER OPEN EVENTS

To accompany Manchester Open 2024, we will be hosting a programme of events, including free tours led by a range of artists, experts and community representatives from Greater Manchester. Each host will choose a selection of their favourite works, often with a personal theme in mind, so that no two tours are alike.

We are also programming a series of artist development workshops led by Short Supply, Relaxed Viewing Hours, Audio Described and BSL led tours, and Family Friendly activities.

Please visit homemcr.org for more details.

We are delighted that this year's awards have been designed and made by designer/maker Joe Hartley with clay dug from his own clay pit.

Joe Hartley is a designer working with ceramics, food, furniture and space. His responses are fast, fluid and initial with processes evident and material qualities celebrated, whether that be with a range of pottery, an interior space or an adaptable garden made with a changing group of participants. At the studio Yellowhammer, Stockport, he uses a continuous and interrogative approach to ceramics in collaboration with studio contributors and the bakery. Quarterly events under the name of 'Pearl Club' see tableware made specifically to serve shellfish, cooked in as few moves possible. He also works with Standard Practice, Altogether Otherwise and PLANT MCR supported by the developer NOMA.

AWARDS

The selection panel have nominated 20 artists for the Manchester Open 2024 Awards. All five winners will receive a bespoke artist development package managed by HOME and Castlefield Gallery to help guide and invest in their practice.

The awards are as follows:

- HOME: Granada Foundation Gallery Solo Exhibition
- Castlefield Gallery: Artist Professional Development Award 1
- Castlefield Gallery: Artist Professional Development Award 2
- Castlefield Gallery: Artist Professional Development Award 3
- The People's Choice Award

VOTE FOR YOUR FAVOURITE ARTWORKS!

The People's Choice Award is voted for by you, the visitor! Please head over to one of our Manchester Open 2024 volunteers or invigilators to vote for your 3 favourite works.

The artist and artwork that receives the most votes will win.

DEADLINE TO VOTE: WED 28 FEB, 20:00

The following 20 artists are shortlisted for one of four Manchester Open Awards by HOME and Castlefield Gallery. The fifth award, The People's Choice Award is selected by visitors to the exhibition.

Jamie Kirk
Kalamity

Jamie Kirk's work explores the interaction between hard edged shapes and loose, gestural action, to convey uncertain depth, texture and disciplined excess. By allowing certain aspects to spontaneously dictate themselves, pockets of expressive mark making float among suggestions of familiar imagery in an imagined space of turbulence.

Lizzie McLoughlin
Here at last

We are used to seeing the ethereal mother and child, not the caesarean scars, placentas, blood, and the overwhelming real emotions. This is Savannah's freebirth, her previous baby was stillborn, the baby crash landed "like an asteroid", into her partner's hands...and cried, just like she'd asked him to for the last 9 months.

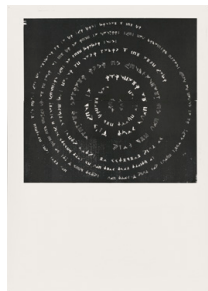

FINALISTS

HOME: Granada Foundation Gallery Solo Exhibition

Mikesian Studios
Woo Woo

Mikesian Studios is an Art & Design duo from Manchester. With a background in Graphic Design, their self-sufficient practice incorporates principles of visual communication and language with a distinct focus on tonality and wordplay.

Deshna Shaar
Kathā

Deshna Shaar explores how dyslexia, play, and societal dynamics intersect. Central to her work is the Twilight Language - a script she designed by fusing Hindi, English, and Gujarati. She anonymises and translates written accounts, creating a therapeutic method to preserve memory whilst establishing a coded archive of uncovered postcolonial, generational and migrational complexities.

Fleur Yearsley
Packs a Punch

Fleur Yearsley, MFA graduated from the Slade School of Fine Art (2017 Gwen John Scholarship). To The Moon and Back featured in the John Moores Painting Prize 2020. Yearsley's paintings delve into memory, humour and unfolding narratives, drawing on pop culture references to establish a relatable, empathetic connection with viewers.

Castlefield Gallery: Artist Professional Development Award 1

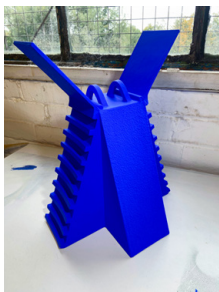

James Bullimore
9hr:15min:25sec

James Bullimore RCA has an interdisciplinary practice which explores the authenticity of his OCD. Paintings are immediately made after durational performances from memory: to make the space of the page, the real space of the performance. The physical tool of production is not just in his hands, but in the kinetics of his entire body.

Nerissa Cargill Thompson
Message in a Bottle: Family Pack

Nerissa Cargill Thompson creates textile wall art and mixed-media sculptures that explore juxtapositions of texture and colour, particularly where nature meets manmade. She blends and embroiders recycled fabrics to produce her signature textiles and highlights environmental issues by casting these with concrete in waste packaging to form future fossils.

Naomi Harwin
A daily attempt to stay grounded #1

Naomi Harwin specialises in sculpture and installation. Her interactive and mixed media artworks explore our senses and how they connect us with our bodies, others, and the environment. She is influenced by sensory design, architectural scenography, play, and aims to foster moments of connectivity and shared experience.

Maria Jackson
which night was that again?

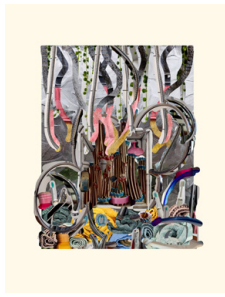

Maria Jackson's practice explores the slippery and breakable qualities of memory. She works across different mediums including free motion sewing. Exploring the edges and relationship between two and three dimensions with symbols and motifs, she attempts to tell small narratives around moments of reflection and recollection

Adele Jordan
4 garments - plastiglomerate

Adele Jordan focuses on the environmental and economic damage undertaken by fast fashion and its reliance on oil, which now accounts for 69% of all textile output. Connecting the fields of material science, geology and economics, her practice raises awareness and potential solutions to address these pressing issues.

Castlefield Gallery: Artist Professional Development Award 2

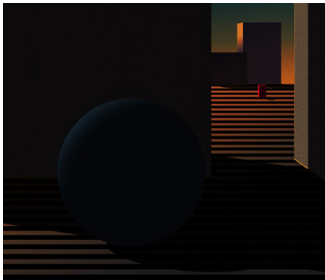

Matthew Bamber
Dream home (wet)

Matthew Bamber creates work using imagery amassed from personal and public archives, exploring themes of memory and trauma, greed and power, queerness and identity. Recent group exhibitions include Castlefield Gallery; (Un)Defining Queer at The Whitworth; A.P.T Gallery, London, and P7 Gallery, Berlin.

Maisie Pritchard
Untitled (Throwing Sculpture)

Maisie Pritchard's practice is concerned with the juncture between artistic production and design, and how they crossover to generate functional and interactive sculpture or design objects. She enjoys working collaboratively with the public to make playful, useful artworks through public workshops that incorporate teaching, sharing and exchanging creative skills and making processes.

Kay Shah
A Visceral Longing

Kay Shah is a British-Pakistani artist from Manchester with a BA (Hons) in Fine Art from the Manchester School of Art. Exploring themes of distance, isolation, and cultural identity, they investigate liminality as a response to sociocultural and interpersonal relationships within the landscape of contemporary society.

Ngozi Ugochukwu
Scars Never Fade

Ngozi Ugochukwu works in photography, filmmaking and performance. Her work has been exhibited at Disability Arts Online, DaDa Fest Liverpool; Manchester Open 2020 and 2022, HOME. In 2023, Ngozi's work was featured as part of The Welcome at Aviva Studios in the exhibition Inside Out: This is Manchester, celebrating the faces that make up Manchester with over 200 black and white portraits.

Freya Wysocki
lurch

Freya Wysocki's practice embodies a playful and energetic sensibility, constructing camp, queer realities through textiles and sculpture. Their work encourages viewers to foster connections with each other by evoking a sense of tenderness and familiarity. In a chaotic and increasingly digitised world, their work provides a way to connect to something tangible.

Award 3

Elaine Fisher
Anne's Cleavage

Elaine Fisher is drawn to edges and between spaces, following where curiosity leads her. In her piece for Manchester Open 2024 she walked the contours of Anne's cleavage, taking a dip in the ocean and recovering the precious cargo hidden in her cavernous corrugations.

Amy Gough
Verge

Amy Gough is an interdisciplinary artist working primarily in moving image and painting. She self-publishes zines alongside her practice. Her work is concerned with questions around how we deal with gaps in knowledge, often explored through a lens of absurd humour.

Rowland Hill
The Exploding Threat

Rowland Hill works site specifically, creating environments that sit between performance and installation. She makes decorative and exuberant collages in 2D and video form. The Exploding Threat is part of an ongoing series of works with found imagery that allow her to intensely reenounter small details from art she loves.

Amrit Randhawa
Telephone Voice

Amrit Randhawa is an artist and designer based in Manchester. Working primarily with typography and image-making under the moniker, Taxi Cab Industries. Randhawa's outputs often re-contextualise ordinary language and everyday symbols — rooted in the misunderstandings that can arise from the limitations of communication.

Jude Wainwright
Rites I & II

Jude Wainwright's work uses rituals as an impetus. Her paintings explore repetition and habit: the empowerment and sense of control they create, alongside their capacity to teach and enable growth. Drawn from dreams and flashes of thought, she uses self-portraiture to reconnect with herself.

ARTWORK BUYING ADVICE

Many of the works in the exhibition are for sale. The sale goes directly to the artist, with a percentage going towards HOME's admin and work in enabling access to exhibitions, live theatre and film for those who would otherwise find it difficult to attend.

How do I buy an artwork? Simply head to Box Office. You will be able to purchase your chosen work if available and a member of our Box Office team will take payment in full. Sold artworks will be available for collection once the exhibition closes. We will be in touch to book a collection time that suits you in May 2024

Please note: There will be a cooling off period of 7 days from purchase with a refund of the amount paid less an admin fee, the lesser of 10% of amount paid or £40.
